Marmox Slicedstone Sheets offer a stylish and completely natural stone finish, in large format, ultra light tile sheets.

These real Slicedstone Sheets are a lightweight, practical and yet highly visual surface for many different applications. Use them externally to clad walls or internally for any room in the house, including wetrooms and bathrooms.

Using the latest technology, Slicedstone Sheets are peeled from the surface of Indian sedimentary rock and then re-engineered with a stabilised backing, making them more commercially viable. The surface of each sheet has been treated with a clear, polycarbonate solution to create a stable surface which is waterproof, stain resistant and allows easy removal of adhesive and grout residue.
